SERVICES OFFERED

CLOUD COMPUTING

The success of a cloud computing arrangement depends, in great part, on the extent to which the client has understood the risks it takes and has accordingly selected the types of data that can be hosted within the cloud. As a privacy and security counsel to a business, we ensure that our client understands these risks.

We also draft and review the related terms of service, ease of access, ease of transmission, and ease of processing while also providing effective advisory services on the same.

ASSESSMENT AND AUDIT

We evaluate the company's ability to maintain and communicate privacy and security policies and procedures that comply with applicable legal and contractual requirements. We also evaluate the current level of the company's compliance with applicable laws.

We measure the employees' awareness of privacy and security issues and their understanding of the applicable laws, regulations, guidelines, standards, and jurisprudence. Commercial contracts, e-commerce, outsourcing, hosting, online business, cloud computing, storage, disaster recovery services, marketing, advertising, distribution, partnering, vendor, web wrap, SLA and numerous other services agreements allow service providers to have access to a large amount of personal data. Such transactions raises various issues associated with protecting personal data, from privacy to security, e-discovery to cross-border transfers, breach of security to identity theft. Each commercial relationship has distinctive requirements, and there is no simple one-size-fits-all answer. We tailor solutions specifically for each issue we identify as a viable concern.

COMPLIANCE WITH DATA SECURITY LAWS

We assist each company that collects, processes, shares, stores, or disposes of personal data to ensure that these data are protected with the appropriate security measures. We also assist in arriving at appropriate security policies and procedures

SERVICES OFFERED

SECURITY BREACHES

A company's task in the event of a security breach is extraordinarily complex. The nature of the event and its impact demands that the company ensures the breach is handled as smoothly as possible. We assist in ensuring this occurs and facilitate thorough compliance with applicable legal laws. We make the required filings with the applicable agencies and aim to limit the exposure to significant financial consequences to individuals and the corporate entity.

We also assist in evolving good practices in the event of such breaches, as well as legal advisory on how to avoid such events.

IT MARKETING & SALES AND PRODUCT LIABILITY

We assist in having good advertising, marketing and sales agreements that are critical ingredients for the expansion of a company. Using personal data in advertising campaigns or marketing projects presents unique data protection challenges for companies, and we aim to be the one-stop solution to such challenges.

DATA TRANSFER AND SHARING

Numerous laws and regulations restrict and regulate personal and financial data transfers to third-party platforms. These transfers or sharing may require the prior consent of the individual data subject or the prior approval of the regulators. In most cases, they also require the negotiation of data transfer agreements or data use agreements that limit permitted uses and include stringent requirements for confidentiality and security. We offer services that ensure that such operations are carried forward smoothly.

COMPLIANCE WITH PRIVACY LAWS

Our compliance services are geared towards providing companies with the ability to understand the requirements of the numerous Indian data privacy laws that impact their businesses.

SERVICES OFFERED

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Since each company is unique, related policies and procedures are also unique. A company's privacy and security policies must reflect its actual practices. Companies have been penalized by regulators for failing to abide by or acting contrary to the representations made in these policies. We help draft and review these policies and procedures regularly.

PERSONAL DATA REVIEWAL AND ADVISORY

Different issues arise depending on the nature of the data and the services being offered to individual data subjects. Customers, distributors and other outsiders are usually subject to different agreements or rules than employees, contract employees, retirees and other insiders. Each of the related policies or contracts has to be examined separately.

We handle reviewing and amending such data points to ensure the essential regulatory compliances are met alongside maximum benefits.

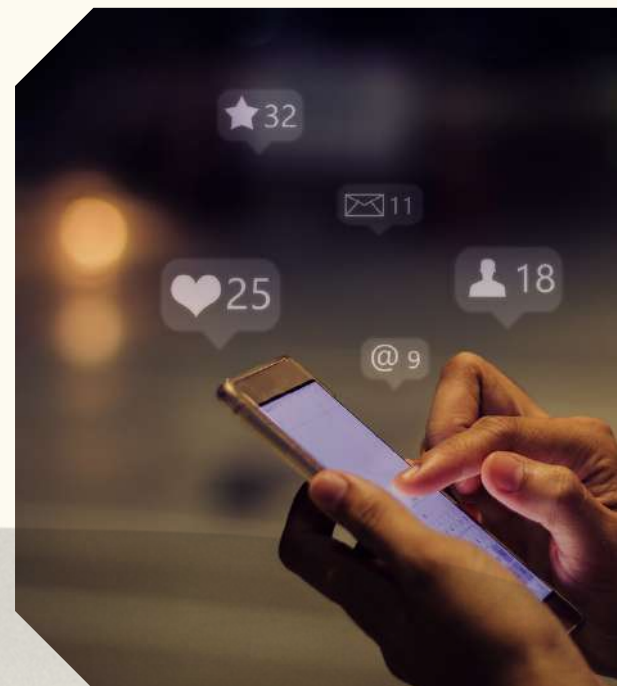

SOCIAL MEDIA NETWORKING

Social networking sites expose individuals to the dangers of sharing personal data. While the practice has some benefits, there are risks that such information might also be accessible to unwanted parties, aggressive marketers, stalkers, or criminals.

We assist in establishing a company's data handling practices, privacy policies, user tools and interface to ensure the social media entity's userbase is as protected as possible.

REAL ESTATE

We assist in conducting legal due diligence and providing opinions on the real estate and infrastructure required to conduct the business, including head offices, logistics, factories, branch offices across different cities and towns, etc.
